Maps don't merely represent space, they shape arguments; they set discursive boundaries and identify objects to be considered.

The Supreme Court of the United States approved urban renewal as constitutional in 1954, the same year that it struck down school segregation in Brown v. Board of Education.
Mr. J. Anthony Panuch

January 28, 1960

As to firmly establishing Jamaica Track, the largest middle income cooperative in contemplation which is under the City Construction Co-ordinator, I believe it may be possible to do this before your reorganisation and consolidation becomes effective, so that others can carry it to completion from this point.

I am writing this as an individual and on behalf of volunteer members of the staff and my Triborough associates who have cooperated by giving space and other facilities. Our position is definite and unequivocal. You may, however, wish to discuss the matter further with other members of the Slum Clearance Committee who may have in mind retaining the Committee under other auspices with some other Chairman, staff and locale.

Sincerely,

Chairman

Robert Moses resigned from the slum Clearance Committee in 1960. He saw his task of bringing federal money for clearance into the city as completed then.
These maps show the areas where federal demolition money was spent between 1949 and 1968.
The federal government declared the urban renewal program a failure and stopped funding it in 1974. The City of New York adopted 82 Urban Renewal Plan Areas since then with no federal aid.
There are 63 active urban renewal plan areas citywide.
Welcome!
